

*Preserving our past ...
Creating our future*
www.fw.msu.edu

MICHIGAN STATE UNIVERSITY

Center for Systems Integration and Sustainability

You are cordially invited to attend the following

SPECIAL SEMINAR

“Migration Networks and Migration Processes:
The Case of China”

Presented by

Dr. Zai Liang

Thursday, November 29th, 3:30 pm

105 Manly Miles Building

Refreshments will be provided at 3:20 pm

Dr. Liang is a Professor in the Department of Sociology at State University of New York in Albany. He is a leading expert on migration and quantitative social methods. His wide interests also include transnational communities, social demography, market transition, and population and environment. His work has been recognized by such awards as the Dorothy Swaine Thomas Award (Population Association of America). He chaired the Section on Asia and Asian America of American Sociological Association and is co-director of the Urban China Research Network. Dr. Liang obtained his PhD in sociology from the University of Chicago.